PROFILE

Eleanor Jones is a Senior Neurological Physiotherapist at Physio Matters, with experience across community settings, acute hospital wards, and outpatient clinics. Since qualifying in 2016, she has developed a broad skill set, including holistic assessment, collaborative working with multi-disciplinary teams, and setting client-centred goals to motivate clients.

Eleanor is passionate about making physiotherapy accessible. She completed Makaton Level 1 training during the first lockdown to better support clients with communication difficulties and improve therapeutic outcomes. She is fully trained in Rebound Therapy.

She has also completed two hydrotherapy courses, gaining expertise in using water-based therapy to support neurological rehabilitation. Currently, Eleanor has a postgraduate certificate in complex postural management, aimed at improving quality of life for clients at risk of postural deterioration. She is committed to sharing her knowledge through training and collaborative learning.
